THE UNEMPLOYED PHILOSOPHERS GUILD's origins date from the time of Socrates – 399 BCE – and our one regret is the great philosopher never saw the finger puppet we made in his image. As you turn the pages of this catalogue, you'll see some of the smartest, funniest, greatest ideas of all time – from the Renaissance to the Regency Era (we speak fluent Jane Austen) to the American Revolution to last Tuesday.

As the U.S. relocated its capitol from Philadelphia to Trenton to a New York tavern to Washington, DC, UPG landed in the new nation. By the early 1990s, UPG HQ was New York City's Lower East Side, where two brothers applied their advanced degrees and dedication to paying off student loans to fulfilling the people's need for finger puppets, warm slippers, coffee mugs, and cracking up at stuff.

Today, we continue the UPG tradition in the Brooklyn Ivory Tower. Our inspiring collection of great thinkers, dazzling artists, and unforgettable cultural icons will delight and inspire even your most hard-to-please customers.

MAGNETIC PERSONALITIES²¹

Every Magnetic Personality is a puppet on your finger and a magnet on your fridge or locker. Each original design captures the personality of a remarkable individual...

Do you know this woman?

Childhood trauma all but stole her voice; reciting poetry, she restored it. Her voice would grow in power – on the page and in person.

Of course you do!

“There is no greater agony than bearing an untold story inside you.” Poet and memoirist, professor and civil rights activist, Maya Angelou lived a life of resonance.

It’s all who you know.

The calypso singer who never went to college became Professor Angelou, receiving the Presidential Medal of Freedom and National Medal of Arts. All Magnetic Personalities include a tag with brief bio, important dates and a thoughtful introduction to one of our original thinkers and cultural icons. Why not surround yourself with Magnetic Personalities? Get to know real characters — and people of real character.

THE UNEMPLOYED PHILOSOPHERS GUILD

2022 International Wholesale Supplement

WELCOME TO THE UNEMPLOYED PHILOSOPHERS GUILD 2022 WHOLESALE SUPPLEMENT!

UPG sales resources are designed to work together!

THE UNEMPLOYED PHILOSOPHERS GUILD's origins date from the time of Socrates – 399 BCE – and our one regret is the great philosopher never saw the finger puppet we made in his image. As you turn the pages of this catalogue, you'll see some of the smartest, funniest, greatest ideas of all time – from the Renaissance to the Regency Era (we speak fluent Jane Austen) to the American Revolution to last Tuesday.

As the U.S. relocated its capital from Philadelphia to Trenton to a New York tavern to Washington, DC, UPG landed in the new nation. By the early 1990s, UPG HQ was New York City's Lower East Side, where two brothers applied their advanced degrees and dedication to paying off student loans to fulfilling the people's need for finger puppets, warm slippers, coffee mugs, and cracking up at stuff.

Today, we continue the UPG tradition in the Brooklyn Ivory Tower. Our inspiring collection of great thinkers, dazzling artists, and unforgettable cultural icons will delight and inspire even your most hard-to-please customers.

LOOK INSIDE!

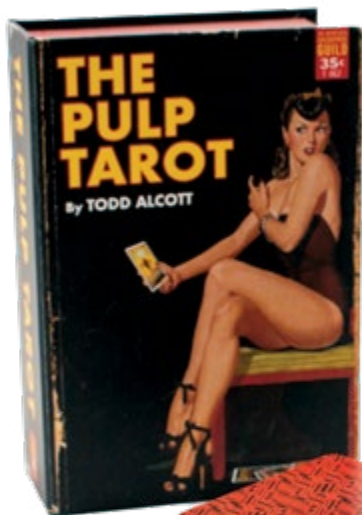

MEMENTO MORI MUG

Designed with images carved into centuries-old burial monuments, UPG's stone-colored mug, Memento Mori ("remember death"), will remind you to take time to smell the lilies. Angels with trumpets (hurrah!), skeletons with hour glasses (tick-tock, people!) and just enough Latin to hint that life is fleeting (Tempus Fugit / Fugit Hora). In the bottom of the mug is a reminder of the inevitable – and an ouroboros (snake biting its own tail) to represent eternity. This dignified Memento Mori mug, in its own gift box, is perfect for gloomy people who need coffee or tea to...wake. 14 oz. / 400 mL #5723
